Description

When displaying search results, slash is hard–coded in the page path property. There will be always a slash in the beginning, separating slash and nothing in the end. It is not possible, for example, to have only symbols like » between path segments.

The attached patch fixes it by introducing a new option named "pathCharacter", which has optionSplit functionality.

[FEATURE] Make path separator of search result configurable

This patch makes the hard coded path separator ("/") of the indexed_search search result configurable with TypoScript.
You can use option split syntax to wrap each page title separately.

It also makes getPathFromPageId() return already htmlspecialcharsed string.
