Description It would be grate if it was possible to see all search results for projects (the search box on the left). Now it is imposible e.g. to find extension "tt_news" which is quite funny as it is probably the most popular extension ever.

You also might not find tt_news because its bugtracker is not here on Forge, but on <http://bugs.typo3.org>.

I know that tt_news uses old bug tracker, but there is a project page with repository here on Forge - see http://forge.typo3.org/projects/extension-tt_news

So it should be possible to find this page.

This problem is not only related to tt_news. It is just hard to find project when there are many projects with similar name.
