

Advent calendar - Bug #32226

Renederer in AJAX-Mode

2011-11-30 23:26 - Edgar Schaupp

Status:	New	Start date:	2011-11-30
Priority:	Should have	Due date:
Assignee:	Jari-Hermann Ernst	% Done:	0%
Category:		Estimated time:	0.00 hour
Target version:		Spent time:	0.00 hour
Description
Hi, thanks a lot for this great extension. But I've a little Problem with the rendering in Ajax-Mode. When I make a Wicket (new Side) and I use the text-content and the text is longer than one line, I cannot see anything. If I use only one text line, there is no problem. Regards erschaup

History

#1 - 2011-12-01 06:20 - Jari-Hermann Ernst

- Assignee set to Jari-Hermann Ernst

Which version do you are on? There have been some updates in the last days in which some changes have been made according the ajax mode. 0.2.0 is latest.

What is a problem right now is that you should not have any user or usergroup permission on the target pages. The ajax script is just rendering the html output of the target page, fetches everything between <body> and </body> and outputs it to the dialog box. At this point of time there is no explicit rendering of the TYPO3 content.

That leads me to another question: Does the preview of the target page work?