Description

For example when you want to add two classes to a table class="table table-bordered" it is not possible and the t3editor does not assign any class. You always have to manage this in the html code...

i think it's not related to the t3editor (TypoScript-Syntaxhighlighting in e.g. the Templates modul) but to the RTE (Content element rich text editor).

Could you file another issue in the core bug tracker please?
