Description

Currently indexed_search is a pure mess of old- and new school features, and the experimental template is showing less than could be expected. The reason for that is evident:

old school: plugin.tx_indexedsearch.show.rules

Fluid: plugin.tx_indexedsearch.settings.displayRules

and a Rules partial starting with:

<f:if condition="{settings.showRules}">

[BUGFIX] Use correct setting to display search rules

The extbase plugin (pi2) of EXT:indexed_search previously used a different TypoScript setting to control the display of search rules than the setting that is shipped as default TypoScript. This changes the template to use the correct setting.

either condition in the template has to be changed to {settings.displayRules} or the TS has to be changed to "showRules = 1"

- TYPO3 Version changed from 6.1 to 7

Did some research on since when this inconsistency exists:

TYPO3 4.5

TypoScript:

```
plugin.tx_indexedsearch.show.rules = 1

code correctly uses $this->conf['show.']['rules']

since TYPO3 6.2

TypoScript:
ext_typoscript_setup.txt:

plugin.tx_indexedsearch.show.rules = 1
```

Configuration/TypoScript/setup.txt:

plugin.tx_indexedsearch.settings.displayRules = 1

Pi1 (classic search plugin):

code correctly uses $this->conf['show.']['rules']

Pi2 (experimental extbase variant):
Fluid uses wrong variable <f:if condition="{settings.showRules}> looks like we need to treat a fix as breaking change.
