Description

I have no access to files in the filelist, when in the tca of the extension the setting "allowed" is ""*.
I have to set it to real file-extensions.

This doesn't work:

```
$TCA['tx_drevo_domain_model_image']['columns']['file']['config']['allowed'] = ""*;
```

This works:

```
$TCA['tx_drevo_domain_model_image']['columns']['file']['config']['allowed'] =
$GLOBALS['TYPO3_CONF_VARS']['GFX']['imagefile_ext'];
```

[BUGFIX] Fix handling of TCA allowed flag in ElementBrowser

If the 'allowed' flag in the element browser contains a '', which means any type of file, no file is displayed. This is because a filter is added that only files are displayed that have a '' as file ext.

The filter should not be added if the allowed value is '*' or empty.

The reason why '' doesn't work is, that '' is only allowed for type=db and not for typo=file.

See documentation:

<http://docs.typo3.org/typo3cms/TCARreference/Reference/Columns/Group/Index.html#allowed>

I think the disallowed part in the documentation is wrong as there is explained that "" should be used if you want to allow all. But all file extensions should never be allowed as this also describes which kind of file you can upload. And setting this to * will allow you to also upload php files which is a security issue.

So i would say we have to adjust the documentation and reject this ticket.

Any other comments?

Just checked the code and it looks like i was wrong. File extensions like php will be excluded by the global configuration $GLOBALS['TYPO3_CONF_VARS']['BE']['fileDenyPattern'] which has higher priority.

We'll dig a bit deeper into this.

There are still some deprecated functions used in the core.

It looks like the '*' should really be allowed for files. So the documentation is wrong here as there are several checks in code for this already. I've fixed the missing part.
