Description
If we enable images in RTE and open the wizard we can see that there is a 10px heigh white space above tabs. This is caused by top margin of the table that contains tabs (#typo3-tabmenu) but also that body not covers this area.
Please check attached screenshot.
I suggest also to increase tabs width because the localized text is sometime rendered in 2 lines.

Problem: In Internet Explorer and Google Chrome, white space appears above tabs in the TYPO3 Link wizard and in the RTE Link and Image dialogues.

Solution: Replace top margin of tab menu with padding in container.

Resolves: #55782

Releases: master, 6.2

Perhaps this was fixed in current master. The RTE image wizard tabs now look just like the Link wizard tabs and the RTE link wizard tabs.

I think this would make tabs too wide. I think the current tab is set wider than the other ones. Hence, in the French localization, for example, some tabs have titles on two lines when inactive, but on one line when active. I think this is adequate.

Ah! I see. This is in Internet Explorer, right? Also in Chrome. The problem is the same in the TYPO3 Link Wizard....
