Description

When creating a new page via drag'n'drop in the pagetree the configured TCAdefaults settings won't be applied to the newly created page.

For example tested with:

```
TCAdefaults.pages {
    # set page to visible
    hidden = 0

    # Hide page if no translation for current language exists
    l18n_cfg = 2
}
```

TYPO3 6.2.3

[BUGFIX] Use TSConfig defaults for DataHandler

Now the DataHandler observes the default values set in TsConfig. Example:

```
TCAdefaults.pages { # set page to visible
hidden = 0
}

I can confirm this bug in TYPO3 6.2.9 :(

You can set your TCAdefaults in pageTS. There it works, but bugfix would be great!

#2 - 2015-09-15 16:33 - Riccardo De Contardi

Still valid for both 6.2.15 and 7.5-dev (latest master).

As stated in #46316, the bug only affects pages created with drag & drop from pagetree; it works if you use, for example, the list-view. And it works using PAGE TSConfig.

My current findings

Found first issue. Inside `fillInFieldArray` of the `DataHandler` class the `incomingFieldArray` is merged with the `fieldArray` (the second containing data touched by `TCAdefaults`). Changing the order of the two arrays from

```
`ArrayUtility::mergeRecursiveWithOverrule($checkValueRecord, $incomingFieldArray);`
to `ArrayUtility::mergeRecursiveWithOverrule($incomingFieldArray, $checkValueRecord);`

gives the correct values
