Description

Introduce a generic API to add tabs to the ElementBrowser and the RTE Link Wizard.

A tab registry should manage the available tabs.
Each tab has an associated TabHandler.
Multiple Tabs might have the same TabHandler.

A tab has:

- an identifier
- a title
- a handler

Optional followup: Convert the existing tabs to the new API, which gives better separation of concerns.

[WIP][!!!][FEATURE] ElementBrowser refactoring, LinkBrowser API

This change refactors the ElementBrowser and splits it into multiple dedicated classes for each mode.

- Lots of unused code is removed.
- All JS is moved into requireJS modules.
- Tree classes are adjusted

The newly introduced LinkBrowser has few new APIs and hooks to be flexible and extensible.

[!!!][FEATURE] ElementBrowser refactoring, LinkBrowser API - Part 1

This change refactors the ElementBrowser and splits it into multiple dedicated classes for each mode.

The former modes for file, folder and record selection are now placed in dedicated *Browser classes.

The former mode "wizard", which defines its actual functionality via the "act" variable, is a separate controller now, which provides the API to be extensible.

The integration of the various trees and lists is solved by a dedicated LinkParameterProviderInterface. Any class can provide link parameters now by implementing this interface.

Other than that: * Lots of unused code is removed * All JS is moved into requireJS modules * Tree code is simplified by properly using constructors

Part 2 will: * add Breaking and Feature documentation * finalize RTE re-integration * finally delete unused classes

[!!!][FEATURE] ElementBrowser refactoring, LinkBrowser API - Part 2

Adjust link browser integration of RTE.

This removes the dedicated tree classes for RTE as those are useless by now. Additionally the ElementBrowser class is finally removed.
