Description

When I create a content element with an image with a link and I set a title to the image and a title to the link, in HTML source appear both titles.

That is not valid HTML.

The image should get the title of the image. And the link should get the title of the link.
When the link has no title, it can get the title of the image.

Are you using `css_styled_content` of `fluid_styled_content`?
Are you using latest 7.6.2?

TYPO3 release 7.6.2
`css_styled_content`
I am tested it as well `css_styled_content` as `css_styled_content v6.2`.
Both the the same result.

`fluid_styled_content` is not installed.

Ok, I've to test with CSC then, because I can't reproduce the issue with FSC.

I think this is the consequence of having set the TS constants:

styles.content.imgtext.titleInLink = 1
styles.content.imgtext.titleInLinkAndImg = 0

(which is the default); if you set `styles.content.imgtext.titleInLinkAndImg = 1` everything goes right.
By the way: I guess there is very little point in having both the title for link and image set at the same time

#6 - 2016-01-06 22:52 - Dirk Klimpel

Setting `styles.content.imgtext.titleInLinkAndImg = 1` does not change anything in `` tag.
If I set `styles.content.imgtext.titleInLink = 0` in `` tag is the title of link and in `` tag is the title of the image and there is no double title in `` tag.

I have the same TS in TYPO3 6.2. There I do not have double title in `` tag. There is the title in `` tag always the title of the image. TYPO3 7.6

and 6.2 create different outputs.

You are right. I will remove the title of the link in this case. Then is the problem.

#7 - 2016-01-08 19:19 - Markus Klein

I just tested this on 6.2.17 and I also get the double title there.

#8 - 2016-01-10 18:55 - Dirk Klimpel

Whyever. I have no problems in 6.2.17. I had a look in the source of `css_styled_content/Classes/Controller/CssStyledContentController.php`. The part for the title tag is the same in 6.2.17 and 7.6.
It doesn't matter. I will change my links and titles.

Than can you close this case.
