| Description | | | |
| The $nonRelationTables and $nonRelationFields in TYPO3\CMS\Core\Database\ReferenceIndex contains tables and columns that the ReferenceIndexer should never process. | | | |
| In order to extend this functionality with additional tables and columns it would be nice to wrap the access to these 2 arrays in the methods and provided 2 additional signals for extending this behaviour. | | | |
| This issue provides a way to fix the 2 related issues. | | | |

[FEATURE] Add signal to exclude tables from ReferenceIndex

A new signal is introduced to allow the exclusion of tables from the ReferenceIndex. The checks whether tables or columns should be excluded are extracted to methods.
