The issue actually was caused by missing domain record.
So the error message should be changed to be more meaningful and explain that the domain record might be missing.

Sorry, I have no idea what you talking about. There is no admin check in this extension.

Please read my comment.
If you dont have domain record, then you are getting error like "You are not authorized for any site", which is misleading.
It should read "Please create domain record".

The domain record is optional. When it is not set, the redirect will occur on every domain.
There is no error if you don't use it.
