[TASK] Separate Error handling from TSFE

The goal is to decouple error handling from TSFE. For that, a new ErrorController is added which can be called and returns a Response object instead of exits the current request.

In order to keep full backwards-compatibility, TSFE currently does not return a response, but instead exists with a response object.

Next step:

- Move the pageUnavailable_force functionality into a middleware
- See what can be further abstracted to return a response
