Description

Translated, not activated (hidden) elements are not displayed in page mode. They are visible in list mode, though. Once the elements are activated (unhidden), they are displayed in page mode. Bug seems unrelated to type of element (tested with "Text & Media" and "Bootstrap Carousel").
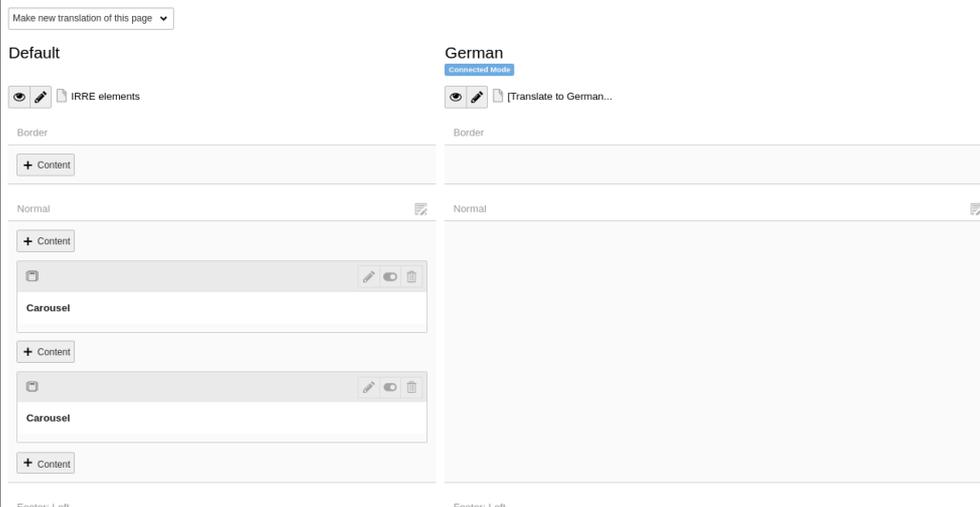

Reproduce

1. Create elements, e.g. "Text & Media"
2. In "page" module, select "Languages", use the "Translate" button (I used translate mode, not copy - don't know if this is relevant)
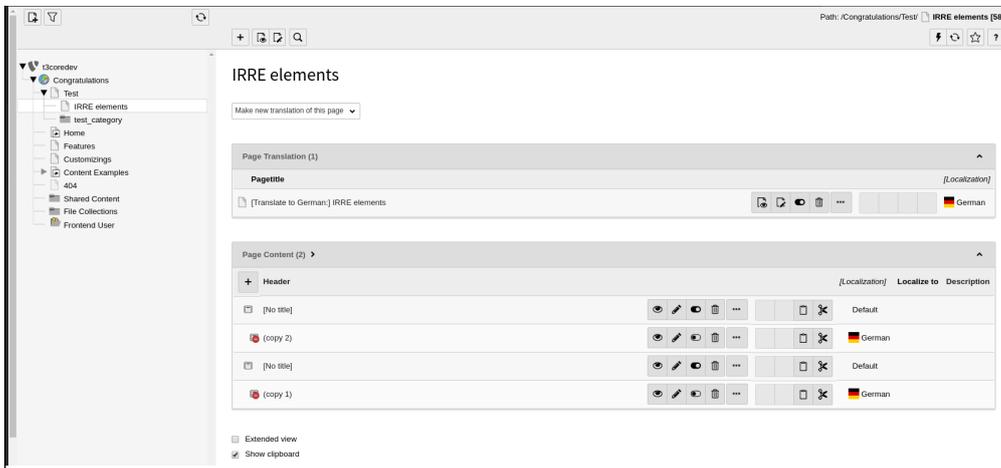

Screenshots

page mode: 2 translated elements are missing.

list mode: all elements are displayed.

Revision 94acfea0 - 2018-04-06 16:54 - Andreas Fernandez

[BUGFIX] Only apply language constraints for "Show hidden" checkbox if neccessary

The checkbox "Show hidden content elements" currently checks any selected language. This is malfunctioning in case the language "Default" is selected in the "Language" view, as it won't affect any translation.

The patch now changes the handling to add the language constraint only if the view renders multiple languages and any language is selected, that is not the default language.

History

#1 - 2018-04-01 09:07 - Sybille Peters

- File show-hidden.png added

I just tried to reproduce this and noticed, there is a checkbox on the bottom: "Show hidden content elements"
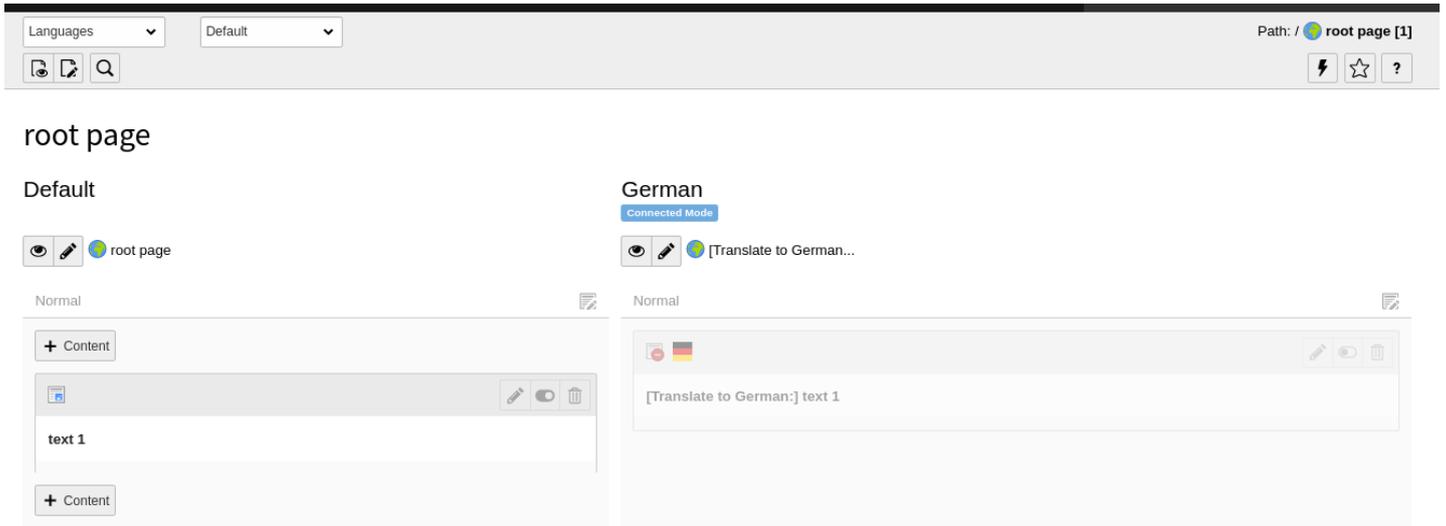

☐ Show hidden content elements (1)

I might have overlooked that before. So the behaviour does seem correct. It seems like the default behaviour changed now.

#2 - 2018-04-01 09:26 - Sybille Peters

- File show-hidden2.png added

Now the hidden, translated elements are displayed in the "page" module.

But the checkbox "Show hidden content elements" is not displayed anymore so it is not possible to uncheck it.
