[!!!][TASK] Merge salted passwords auth service into default service

The patch merges the default 'authUserBE' and 'authUserFE' authentication service of extension saltedpasswords on priority 70 into the default authentication service of the core on priority 50.

The now unused SaltedPasswordService is deprecated with this class. Last inactive ways for authentication against stored plain text passwords are removed.

While this is in almost all cases not a problem for existing instances when upgrading, an edge case when this may lead to a security relevant breaking change is described in a changelog file.

The new 'authUser' of the default core authentication method is rewritten and carefully crafted to be much easier to understand, much more defensive, better documented and tested.
