Description

One of the best features of TYPO3 is its mass-editing capabilities in the list view.

Since change #82991 the "Localization View" is always enabled in the list view. This means it's not possible anymore to edit translated records (see screenshot checkbox-missing.png)

This is only the case for pages.

It works with tt_content or custom elements.

Is this duplicate with #88823?

#7 - 2020-10-26 15:00 - Robert Vock

Yes, it's a duplicate. Restoring the option to disable "Localization view" would allow to mass-edit the localized records.

The other one already has a related patch so I am closing this one.
