This very simple to manage issue is actually a showstopper for many projects, I think.

In my opinion, using `--ignore-platform-reqs` is not really a got option to get a stable working installation.

So – please – merge it asap.

Currently it's only possible to use PHP 7.3, with the problem, that composer uses an older version of this extension. The reason is, that version 6.7.1 has a less restricted php version as dependency than 6.7.5.

Thank you in advance!
