Description

If a page has "Hide page if no translation for current language exists" set and has no translation, its `<link rel="alternate" hreflang="xx-XX" href=""/>` are correctly not rendered.

But they are rendered in the sub-pages of this page even if they are not translated.
(in TYPO3 9 they were correctly not rendered)

- Parent without translations and with "Hide page if no translation for current language exists" set: no hreflang
- Sub-page without translations and with "Hide page if no translation for current language exists" not set: hreflang rendered for every setup language
