[TASK] Deprecate extbase setDispatched() and isDispatched()

Extbase Request setDispatched() and isDispatched() violate the PSR-7 'immutable' concept and need to fall.

With the changes from #92502 where extbase actions usually return a ResponseInterface, together with the deprecation of StopActionException in #94351, we don't need this information in the Request anymore: It can be handled internally within the dispatcher, depending on the type of the response.

The patch deprecates the two methods in extbase request and adapts usages towards an internal flag. We throw a deprecation warning since the flag is needed for b/w compat in v11, though.
