Description

When having `config.debug = 1` enabled, content formatted as JSON breaks.

It should rather be sent as HTTP Response Header

[TASK] Send debug information of cached page as HTTP Header

If config.debug = 1 is added, and a page is loaded from cache, TYPO3 usually sent

"<!-- Cached page generated 03-09-21 09:48. Expires 04-09-21 09:48 -->" at the end of the HTTP Response Body.

This is especially painful when dealing with JSON output, where this breaks output if TYPO3 should return JSON (e.g. from a USER function).

This change sends the same information as a HTTP Response Header named "X-TYPO3-Debug-Cache" including the same information, and not touching the actual rendering.
